PATENTS

- Ultrasonication-Assisted Synthesis of Soft Magnetic NiFe2O4 Nanoparticles and Related Methods
202541055673 A
A materials science innovation focused on synthesizing NiFe₂O₄ nanomaterials via Sol-Gel, Co-precipitation, and Ultrasonication-Assisted Co-precipitation methods. The ultrasonication-assisted route significantly improved particle dispersion, reduced crystallite size, and produced soft magnetic properties suitable for biomedical and high-frequency electronic applications. The invention highlights a tunable, synthesis-driven approach to tailoring magnetic behavior in ferrite nanomaterials.
- Smartwatch-Based Adaptive Posture Monitoring and Feedback System with User-Specific Identification
202541056107 A
A smartwatch-based wearable health monitoring system that detects and corrects user posture using onboard motion sensors and an embedded machine learning model. The system operates entirely offline, offering real-time posture inference, adaptive haptic or audio feedback, and personalized incremental learning to accommodate individual biomechanical patterns. It further includes a behavioral-biometric user identification module and an optional mobile companion app for analytics and configuration, providing a self-contained solution for ergonomic posture correction and musculoskeletal health.
